

TAKE CHARGE OF YOUR FUTURE: A FREE Transition Bootcamp

WHO: Parents/guardians and youth with disabilities

WHEN: Saturday, September 27, 2014
9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

WHERE: Potential Development High School
2405 Market St., Youngstown, Ohio

WHAT: A day-long interactive workshop to help youth with disabilities and their parents/guardians prepare a personal action plan for transition.

Students and their families will be given the information, tools and strategies to prepare to take charge of their future. Each participant will receive:

- Tools and activities to help them develop a transition action plan to share their interests and preferences for transition each year with the IEP team
- Information about the legal rights of students with disabilities in high school and after graduation
- Strategies for using the IEP process to get better outcomes in the areas of employment, further education and independent living
- Information about adult services and benefits that are available to individuals with disabilities to assist them in developing independence and the skills to successfully participate, live and work in the community
- Opportunities to practice and develop self-advocacy skills

Free parking and lunch will be provided.

To register, contact Disability Rights Ohio at 800-282-9181, ext. 501 (TTY 800-858-3542) by September 19, 2014. If you require special accommodations, modified materials or have special dietary needs or restrictions, please detail those needs when you register.
